

For immediate release

Award-winning singer and storyteller Stuart Stotts will be appearing in a concert at --- on ---. There will be one show, at ---m. The concert promises to be a fun event for families of all ages. Come prepared to sing, laugh, and maybe even dance.

Stuart performs over 250 concerts a year for schools, conferences, festivals and community groups. He plays guitar, National Steel Guitar, rainstick and water drum. Stuart is an enchanting storyteller, with a repertoire of both folktales and personal stories. He is an expert at getting audiences involved through singing, movement and laughter. Stuart is also the author of "World Citizen" and "Music in my Mother's House", as well as many other songs which are being performed by artists around the country. His songs have been recorded by such artists as Ronnie Gilbert, the Chenille Sisters, Tom Hunter, Tom Pease and many others.

Stuart has six recordings available for sale: "Good Friends" with Laurie Neustadt in 1985, "One Big Dance", "I'm Not Scared" and "Are We There Yet?", tapes for children and families, and "I Carried the News," for grownups. His newest recording is called "Celebrate" with fellow musician Tom Pease. "Celebrate" is a collection of songs for young children and those who sing with them. Stuart is also the co-author of The Bookcase Ghost: A Storyteller's Collection of Wisconsin Ghost Stories available from Midwest Traditions, and the author of "Books in a Box: Lutie Stearns and the Traveling Libraries of Wisconsin." "One Big Dance," was awarded a 1996 Parents' Choice Seal of Approval. Recordings and books will be available for sale at the concert.
